GigUp Case Study

Overview

Background

A mobile application for job seekers to be matched with part-time positions through criteria that they set, and a web portal for employers to view job listings and potential candidates for hire. Also includes a super admin portal for admins to audit applications and all data.

Product

Mobile application

Problem

Traditional employment opportunities in other job listing application boards do not let users dictate their own schedule or pay range

Goal

To build a user friendly application where prospective employees can dictate their own terms of employment

Duration

Nov. 2021 - Feb. 2022

Role

UX/UI Designer/Jr.Develop

Responsibilities

Worked with team to develop an entire design system and prototype that completed all features in the Figma app store

Design Process
